

Susan Combs Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts

Was your family's income last year less than $49,078? You may be entitled to an income tax refund.

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) campaign is a program to help Texas families get the dollars they deserve.

The EITC is a refund to qualified taxpayers — even if you don't owe any taxes on your income! Each year, the EITC brings more than a billion federal income tax dollars back home and into "Texans' pockets."

You may qualify, if:

- you had three or more children who lived with you for more than six months of the year and your family income was less than $49,078; or
- you had two children who lived with you for more than six months of the year and your family income was less than $46,044; or

- your family earned less than $41,132 in adjusted gross income in 2011 and you had a child who lived with you for more than six months of the year; or
- you had no qualifying children and your family income was less than $18,740.
